A woman with long black hair is standing in the center of the frame. She is wearing a vibrant green kurta with intricate floral embroidery in red and white, paired with matching green pants. Her hands are clasped in front of her, and she is holding a black smartphone. She is wearing black strappy sandals. The background is a studio setting with two large floral arrangements: one with white and orange roses on the left, and one with light blue roses on the right. The backdrop is decorated with sheer curtains in peach and light blue, and strings of small white lights. The floor is a pink and white checkered pattern.
