

MUSEUM

THE CRAFTED DRAPE:
A Hand-Painted Journey

This exhibition celebrates the art of hand-painting on silk, showcasing a collection of sarees and accessories. Each piece is meticulously crafted by skilled artisans, capturing the essence of nature and traditional Indian motifs. The collection features a variety of designs, from delicate floral patterns to bold, geometric shapes. The hand-painted sarees are made from high-quality silk, ensuring a soft texture and a rich, vibrant color palette. The exhibition is a testament to the enduring legacy of hand-painting in Indian textile art.

ARTFUL DRAPE | HAND-PAINTED SILK

MUSEUM

THE CRAFTED DRAPE:
A Hand-Painted Journey

Hand-painted sarees are a traditional Indian textile art form. The process involves meticulously painting floral and geometric patterns onto the fabric using natural pigments. This craft is often passed down through generations, preserving cultural heritage. The saree shown here is a masterpiece of this art form, featuring vibrant yellow flowers and green leaves on a cream background.