ASHVA PATOLA

The patterns in the Patola fabric are inspired from nature and the local architecture.

The carved stone panels of the 11th century Rani ki Vav

The elephant (kunjari), flower (phal), girl (nari) and parrot (popat)

designs are very common in Patola saris worn by Gujarati women and the elephant and tiger motifs are considered particularly auspicious.
